KEEPING EYE ON TERRORISTS

Police Looking Out For Protection of Czar.

Time of His Coming and Going Kept Secret.

Breach Widens Between Government and Parliament.

EMPEROR PLAYING DOUBLE.

St. Petersburg, May 8.—Although there are few surface indications of the fact, an earnest duel is in progress between the police and terrorists and revolutionists, who are thronging to the capital alert for any opportunity to strike Emperor Nicholas or other marked men among the officials gathered here for the opening of the National Parliament. Precautionary measures on an extensive scale have been reinforced by the keenest men from the interior cities. The railroads are being watched most diligently, but a search of the baggage of three members of the lower branch of the Parliament was the only public incident in a campaign to-day by which several terrorists were so quietly bagged that the general public was not aware of the arrests.

In order to safeguard the Emperor in his passage up the river on Thursday, the time of his arrival and departure is being kept a dead secret. The Nicholas palace bridges, through draws of which the Imperial yacht must pass, will be closed to traffic from daylight of Thursday until the departure of the Emperor. The general public will not even be admitted to a long distance view of the yacht from the palace of the admiralty or the quays lining the river front, admission to which and to the palace square will be by ticket only. The Prefect of Police, in an order issued to-day which is worded, in contrast with former notifications, in the most polite terms asks the public to keep moving while in the streets, and concludes that "in order to avoid encounters which might cast a shadow over the solemn day, processions and demonstrations will not be permitted."

MUCH ILL FEELING BEING MANIFESTED.

Government Apparently Losing No Opportunity To Harass Parliament.

St. Petersburg, May 8.—The danger of an early conflict between the Government and Parliament has been greatly increased by what has happened within the last twenty-four hours. The good impression produced by the official intimation of the new Premier that the Emperor and the Government were sincerely desirous of working in harmony with Parliament, which was accepted in good faith by the leaders of the Constitutional Democrats, enabling them to counsel moderation, has largely been dissipated, and in its place the old feeling of mistrust has been revived.

The liberals are utterly dumbfounded in view of the semi-official assurances on the subject by the unexpected promulgation late last night of the obnoxious fundamental law in a slightly modified form. At one stroke it put an end to the claim which the new Cabinet tried to foster, namely that the downfall of the Witte Cabinet was due to imperial disapproval of the original draft of the law. One article in the law exempting crown lands from taxation and expropriation, and another reserving the power of amnesty for political prisoners to the Emperor run counter to the already expressed will of the majority and are bound to produce a clash.

One Commendable Feature.

The only commendable new feature of the fundamental law is a provision to the effect that imperial orders must be countersigned by the president of the Council of Ministers or the member of the Cabinet whose department is affected. But so long as the Cabinet is not responsible to Parliament it is easy for the Emperor to dismiss an unwilling Minister and replace him by one who will do his bidding.

The indignation aroused by the Emperor's attempt to build an artificial dyke around the prerogatives of the crown has been intensified by the astounding action of the police last night in dispersing a meeting of some members of the lower House of Parliament and of the upper house or new Council of the Empire at the hall of the Evening Society. Without any warning the building was surrounded by the Ismailovsky guard regiment and a detachment of cavalry and a hundred policemen marched into the hall, where Count Heyden, a marshal of the nobility and a member of Parliament for St. Petersburg, was presiding, and ordered the meeting to disperse under instructions from the Chief of Police. In spite of vigorous protests that the meeting was entirely legal under the regulations governing the society the police captain who was in charge of the police and troops was inexorable, and the members of Parliament were compelled to yield to force and left the hall after drawing up a formal protest, which was signed by twenty-eight members of Parliament.

Much Indignation.

M. Rodicheff, a member of Parliament for St. Petersburg, hurried after midnight to the hall where the Constitutional Democrats were holding their convention and announced to the members there assembled the action taken by the police. An indescribable scene of fury followed, after which Rodicheff, in an impressive speech which was cheered to the echo, declared that the Government's appeal for confidence had again been false and that the people must rely upon themselves. It was decided that one of the first things after the assembling of Parliament shall be a demand for dismissal of the Chief of Police.

As these incidents were not sufficient to excite the members of Parliament, the local authorities, with a fatuous genius for blundering, inflamed the working classes yesterday. Without warning they ordered many of the leaders of the workmen to leave the city. They were not even given time to remove their families. The matter was brought to the attention of a meeting of 122 peasant workmen members of Parliament, who denounced it as an attempt on the part of the Government to bring about a strike on the eve of the assembling of Parliament for

AMERICAN RESERVE'S MAIL HELD UP

CITED TO SHOW CAUSE AGAINST FRAUD ORDER.

POSTMASTER GENERAL ASKS FOR EXPLANATION.

RESULT OF INSPECTORS' WORK

St. Louis, Mo., May 8.—[Special.]—It developed to-day that Postmaster Wyman, of St. Louis, is holding several hundred thousand pounds of mail addressed to the American Reserve Bond Co., and its subsidiary corporations, The Colonial Securities Co., The Southern Mutual Bond Co., The North-American Bond Co., and the National Bond Company, and that these concerns have all been cited to appear before the Postmaster General at Washington to show cause why a fraud order should not be issued against them. The order holding up the mail of the Company is said to be under investigation in five divisions of the Post-office Inspectors Department. It is declared that two officials of the company have given the Government officers information, which otherwise the department would have considerable difficulty in uncovering. The names of these men are carefully guarded, but they will be used should the matter be taken before the next Federal Grand Jury, May 15.

Judge Bethea of the United States Circuit Court granted permission to-day to J. C. Rogers, the Kentucky receiver for the American Reserve Bond Company to intervene in the case in the Federal Court to restrain Rogers from discharging the receivership. Mr. Rogers then asked that the proceedings in the Federal Court be declared ancillary to the Kentucky proceedings and was directed to prepare his petition.

INSPECTORS IN CHICAGO.

Receiver Rogers Gains Point In Fight For Control.

Chicago, May 8.—[Special.]—Post-office Inspectors John Sullivan and James Stice of the St. Louis division, arrived in Chicago to-day to make an investigation of the business of the defunct American Reserve Bond Co. The company is said to be under investigation in five divisions of the Post-office Inspectors Department. It is declared that two officials of the company have given the Government officers information, which otherwise the department would have considerable difficulty in uncovering. The names of these men are carefully guarded, but they will be used should the matter be taken before the next Federal Grand Jury, May 15.

BOSTON ALSO IN LINE.

Company Restrained From Removing Property.

Boston, May 8.—The temporary injunction obtained last week by Frank W. Ward of Salem, restraining the American Reserve Bond Company, a Kentucky corporation, engaged in the selling of its bonds on installment in this State, from removing any of its property, books or papers from its office, was continued in force by Chief Justice Alden in the Superior Court to-day. The case of the petition for the restraining order was a receiver for the company was continued for one week.

SILVER TROWEL

USED BY MR. CARNEGIE TO LAY CORNER STONE.

Beginning of New Home For Three Great National Engineering Organizations.

New York, May 8.—Andrew Carnegie and Mrs. Carnegie assisted to-day in the laying of the corner stone of the fourteen-story building in West Thirtieth street which is to be the joint home of three national engineering organizations—the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and the American Institute of Mining Engineers. Mr. Carnegie gave $100,000 for the erection of the building.

After Mr. Carnegie had spread cement upon the corner stone with a silver trowel and the granite block had been slipped into place, Mr. Carnegie made an informal address.

"This is to be a united home," he said, "wherein the members of the profession of engineering can come together and form a brotherhood of the American profession. It is a fitting place for the capital of Europe and you will find in little buildings, the electrical engineers here, the mechanical engineers there and the mining engineers yonder—about a mile or more apart. And yet they can keep pace with our engineers in a country where they meet and consult together."

"The principle of union in science is as vital importance as in political affairs."

ALL FACTIONS AGREE ON BILL

Concessions Made to Dolliver Followers.

Republican Leaders Confer On Rate Law.

Accept Amendment Satisfactory to Everybody.

MAY REACH VOTE THIS WEEK.

Washington, D. C., May 8.—[Special.]—Concessions to the Dolliver faction of Republicans were made in the Senate to-day which promise to bring that faction heartily in line for amendments to the rate bill. Senator Allison repudiated the original amendment attributed to him, but after a conference of the leaders, largely composed of the Aldrich faction, by the way, what is thought to be a complete agreement among the Republicans has been reached, and some predict a final vote by the end of the week. The amendment, which it is declared will be passed, will read about as follows:

"The venue of suits brought in any of the Circuit Courts of the United States against the Interstate Commerce Commission to enjoin, set aside, annul, or supersede any order or requirement of the commission shall be in the district where the carrier, against whom such requirement or order may have been made, has its principal offices; and jurisdiction to hear and determine such suits is hereby vested in such courts; provided that on the final hearing of such a suit, the Circuit Court shall be held by three judges, authorized by law to hold the court, but, any one judge, authorized to hold the Circuit Court, may make all orders to speed the suit and prepare it for final hearing. Any party to the cause feeling aggrieved by the decree of the Circuit Court may, within thirty days after the rendition of the same, appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, and that court only."

Smith Strong In Michigan.

Michigan Republican politicians say Representative William Alden Smith has a strong hold on the Senatorial nomination in his State to succeed Senator Alger and that the indications strongly point to his election. Mr. Smith was in Washington for a few hours to-day and expressed every confidence in the result. The four candidates who are now announced for the Senate are making business exceedingly lively in political Michigan. The State Central Committee met Friday and Mr. Smith and Arthur Hill, two of the candidates, favored inserting in the call for the State convention the provision that it should make senatorial nomination. The supporters of the other candidates opposed this and on a vote won by a very close margin. This leaves the State convention to determine what course it will take and the fight will be largely devoted to the question of endorsing or not endorsing a candidate for Senator between now and the convention date. Mr. Smith and Mr. Hill are said to have entered into a combination which will assure the former's election to the Senate this year and result in sending Mr. Hill to the Senate in 1911 to succeed Senator Burrows.

Blackburn Controls North Carolina.

Representative Blackburn, of North Carolina, seems to have complete control of the party in his State, and the indications point to the political death of former Senator Butler and Chairman Rollins at the test of strength this year. Blackburn has just come through a trial for practicing before the department which declared him guiltless. The trial aroused a great deal of sympathy for him and when the verdict was handed down Blackburn found himself more popular than he had ever been in his State. While Blackburn promises to capture the Republican organization over Butler and Rollins, it will not be surprising if the North Carolinians repudiate the whole clique and send a Democrat to Washington to represent the mountain district, which last year only went Republican by 200 votes.

"Uncle Joe" Popular.

There is little doubt of the popularity of "Uncle Joe" Cannon, the Speaker of the House. He is still receiving congratulations on his seventieth birthday, though the big reception of last night was thought to have concluded it. Among other belated telegrams received by the Speaker was one signed "The Kissing Bug." It requested that Representative-elect Hobson of Alabama be made Chairman of the House Committee on Naval Affairs.

Public Building For Versailles.

Senator Blackburn's bill for a $25,000 Federal building at Versailles passed the Senate this afternoon. The bill will be taken on to the omnibus public building in the House and amendment. As Versailles is Senator Blackburn's home town, he is very much pleased at the success of his bill.

These patents have been issued to Kentuckians: John L. Brinly, Louisville, plow point; John E. Conch, Hazard, drilling machine; Lawrence W. Clark, Edwinstown, Holmes, Louisville, curtain for vestibule cars; George M. Jackson, Wickliffe, fence post; Christian Keck, Crescent Springs, temporary binder, also desk shelf; Charles W. Russell, Louisville, awning; Ernest W. Sartora, Paducah, pendulum beat adjuster.

DEPUTIES FIRE INTO PARTY OF STRIKERS.

Pueblo, Col., May 8.—Deputy Sheriffs to-day fired into a crowd of riotous strikers at the Pueblo smelter. Mike Merino, an Italian, was killed and two other strikers were seriously wounded. The deputies were previously badly beaten in an effort to disarm the strikers. The deputies are still on guard at the smelter, but no further trouble is expected. The trouble arose over the inauguration of an eight-hour day.

PUZZLE FOR POLICE IN SPIER CASE

INDICATIONS SEEM TO POINT TO SUICIDE.

WIFE TELLS STORY OF ENCOUNTER WITH BURGLARS.

CARRIED $75,000 INSURANCE.

New York, May 8.—Police officials, who have been investigating the mysterious death of Charles L. Spier, confidential agent of H. H. Rogers, who was found dead in his home in Staten Island yesterday, reported to-day that the evidence indicated that Spier had committed suicide. Mrs. Spier left her bed chamber to go to the dining room in search of a burglar and that she afterwards heard shots. Except that the furnishings of the dining room in which the police say that Spier committed suicide, about the house to indicate the presence of a burglar. One door was found unlocked but with no signs of having been forced and an active bull dog, which accompanied Mr. Spier to the dining room, took no part in the reported duel with the burglar. It was one. On the other hand the police have ascertained that one month before his death Mr. Spier had insured his life for $75,000 and had been obliged to discount a note for $1,357 to pay the premium on the policy. The policy was payable last Saturday. The policies were payable regardless of the cause of death and the beneficiary had been changed from Mrs. Spier to a trustee of his estate.

The police have discovered also that a wedding ring valued at $500 had been outstanding against Mr. Spier and others since February last. These judgments were entered after the Vermont Transmittal Typewriting Company, of which Mr. Spier was president, went into bankruptcy.

Dr. H. W. Haterman, Mr. Spier's family physician, who was one of the first to reach the Spier residence after the shooting, said to-day that he does not believe Mr. Spier committed suicide, but thinks he was killed in a fight with a burglar.

Charles L. Spier is said to have married in Bowling Green, Ky. Mrs. Spier's maiden name was Williams.

WILL INCORPORATE

MUTUAL LIFE POLICYHOLDERS' ASSOCIATION.

Plans Laid For Permanent Organization—Members In Every State.

Washington, May 8.—Bernard N. Baker, of Baltimore, presided over and was made permanent chairman of the Executive Committee of the Mutual Life Insurance Company Policyholders' Association, which met here to-day. Others present were John Skelton Williams, of Virginia; John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi; W. S. Thompson, of Georgia; Robert E. Huff, of Texas, and John DeWitt Warner, of New York. Sixteen committeemen from States and Territories and foreign countries were represented by proxies. It was decided to incorporate the association under the laws of the District of Columbia. The report of Secretary R. W. Fish showed that the membership of the association extends to every State and Territory in the Union, to seven Canadian provinces and to several foreign countries.

The reports from the different States indicated a strong feeling of loyalty among policyholders. All the large insurance companies were represented. The question of taking the most active steps possible to extend the work of the association through State organizations was discussed, and an understanding reached as to how such work should be carried out. Various committees were authorized.

McLaurin's Substitute.

Senator McLaurin offered a substitute for the Elkins provision and Senator Elkins found in it a basis for the continuance of his speech begun earlier in the day on the main proposition. He said that under present conditions small operators cannot afford to mine coal in competition with the railroads and that his own State was especially affected by the evil. He referred to the newspaper report that the Baltimore and Ohio railroad had retired from its coal business and commended the course as wise.

Senator Overman's Motion.

Senator Overman put the suggestion of Mr. Dolliver in the shape of a motion providing that all pending provisions covering the subject of the Elkins amendment be referred to the Committee on Interstate Commerce with instructions to bring in a bill covering the subject.

Senator Daniel opposed the Overman motion, contending that it was competent for the Senate to act on the question in connection with the rate bill.

"If it should take the committee as long to report on this question as it took to report on the original proposition, the people might well lose heart on the subject," said Senator Bailey, in

SENATE GETS "ALL BALLED UP"

Situation So Described By Mr. Tillman.

Senator Elkins' Amendment Cause of Trouble.

Motion to Lay It On Table Voted Down.

MANY SUBSTITUTES OFFERED.

Washington, May 8.—Aside from a few minutes devoted to the reception of the Allison amendment to the Railroad Rate Bill, and half an hour given to routine business, the Senate devoted its entire session to-day to the ineffectual consideration of the Elkins amendment, prohibiting common carriers from engaging in mining coal or in the production of other commodities in competition with shippers, and adjourned at 5 o'clock in a state of general confusion as to the exact subject before it. The disorder was due to the fact that a number of substitutes for amendments to the original amendment were offered. During the day the Senate decided the heretofore disputed point that under the agreement the chair can entertain a motion to lay on the table. It refused, however, by a vote of 29 to 49 to lay the Elkins provision on the table. That amendment and the various modifications will therefore be in order when the rate bill is taken up to-morrow.

Senator Dryden Opposes.

Senator Dryden opposed the Elkins provision, saying that if it should be accepted without fixing a time for it to go into effect, every household in the country would be injuriously affected by it. He said it would take time to adjust the coal industry to the provision. Senator Teller also criticized the provision, saying that Congress had no authority to prohibit railroad companies from mining coal or producing other articles. Congress must, he said, content itself with regulating commerce, not in attempting to control production.

Incidentally, the Colorado Senator referred to the rumor of an agreement among Republican Senators for a compromise on the court review feature of the bill, but he was about to outline amendments which, he said, he had been informed Senator Allison would offer, but before he could do so, time was called on him and he took his seat.

Senator Dick also objected to the Elkins amendment, saying that it affected so many interests that it was in itself quite as important as the question of rate making.

Elkins Defends Amendment.

Senator Elkins defended the provision, saying that the railroads had been held to doing the business for which they were incorporated and that it had been prepared to meet a generally recognized evil.

He had not proceeded far when his attention was called to the fact that he had spoken yesterday on the provision and he was taken off the floor notwithstanding he declared that he "must speak to something."

The legal aspects of the amendment received the attention of Senator Knox, who called attention to the fact that the Supreme Court had never attempted to interfere with the policy of any State in the development of its industries and then declared that it was not competent for Congress to change the policy so long established.

McLaurin's Substitute.

Senator McLaurin offered a substitute for the Elkins provision and Senator Elkins found in it a basis for the continuance of his speech begun earlier in the day on the main proposition. He said that under present conditions small operators cannot afford to mine coal in competition with the railroads and that his own State was especially affected by the evil. He referred to the newspaper report that the Baltimore and Ohio railroad had retired from its coal business and commended the course as wise.

Senator Overman put the suggestion of Mr. Dolliver in the shape of a motion providing that all pending provisions covering the subject of the Elkins amendment be referred to the Committee on Interstate Commerce with instructions to bring in a bill covering the subject.

Senator Daniel opposed the Overman motion, contending that it was competent for the Senate to act on the question in connection with the rate bill.

"If it should take the committee as long to report on this question as it took to report on the original proposition, the people might well lose heart on the subject," said Senator Bailey, in opposing the motion to refer the amendment to the Interstate Commerce Commission. He supported the Elkins amendment as entirely competent. He was willing to extend the time for the provision to become operative until January, 1908, but said he was in accord with a suggestion made by Mr. La Follette prohibiting the acquisition of coal lands in the meantime. In making this suggestion, Mr. La Follette said that one of the southwestern roads had recently expended $15,000,000 in the acquisition of coal lands in New Mexico.

Senator Overman then withdrew his motion to refer the matter back to the committee.

Mr. Dryden's Amendment.

Senator Dryden offered an amendment extending for five years, the time in which the provision shall go into effect, saying that the utmost conservatism was necessary in considering such important questions.

Senator Aldrich followed with a criticism of the Elkins provision, and was soon engaged in a colloquy with Senator Bailey during which the latter said that the carriers were opposing the amendment. "That is not true, under any circumstances," responded the Rhode Island Senator, but Mr. Bailey responded that he did not mean to be so understood. "Nor," he said, "am I one of those who are always importing motives to the Senator from Rhode Island. He is as good as his party. He has a way which cannot get a victory of making a defeat appear as a victory, but in that respect he has an illustrious example in the head of his party. The Senator is not a carrier, but the carriers' best friend."

At this juncture there was much confusion among Senators as to the question before the Senate, and it rose to such a height that after remarking "We are all balled up," Senator Tillman moved to lay the pending bill and all amendments on the table.

The question as to whether Senator Tillman's motion was in order was then submitted to the Senate and the first roll call of the day was taken.

After the roll call, Senator Tillman, who was seated on the chair, stated that the vote was on the question of his authority to entertain a motion to lay on the table under the unanimous agreement. The question was decided in the affirmative, 51 to 29.

Tillman's Motion Lost.

The vote was then taken on Mr. Tillman's motion to lay on the table, which was lost, 29 to 51. The affirmative vote was cast by Aldrich, Aile, Ankeny, Bulkeley, Burkett, Burnham, Carter, Clark (Wyo.), Cullum, DeLoach, Frye, Hale, Hopkins, Keen, Knox, Lester, Lodge, Long, McHenry, Millard, Smith, Sutherland, Tillman, Warren and Wetmore.

Senator Hale then moved an executive session expressing the opinion that the Senate could do more toward disengaging the knot into which it had got itself by postponing further consideration until to-morrow. He yielded long enough, however, to permit Senator Tillman to offer a substitute for the Elkins amendment.

NAVAL APPROPRIATION

Taken Up By House and Army Bill Sent To Conference.

Washington, May 8.—The House of Representatives devoted the day to the Naval Appropriation Bill and accomplished the reading for amendment of the first fifteen pages. During this time several topics incident to the measure were discussed including the difficulty of obtaining coal for the navy, the location of the naval training station on the Great Lakes, the cost of smokeless powder and finally the unnecessary expenditure of $100,000 a year for chains for ships. This last matter was under consideration when the House adjourned.

Representatives Loud of Michigan and Grosvenor of Ohio offered amendments providing that the purchase of such supplies as chains, anchors, cordage, etc., shall hereafter be by the competitive bid process. Representatives of the committee were unsuccessful in getting an amendment through limiting to sixty cents a pound the amount which may be expended for smokeless powder. He stated that the price now paid was seventy-five cents a pound, but that the inquiry made by the Naval Committee showed that it actually cost but thirty-five cents to manufacture the powder. The Army Appropriation Bill was sent to conference with all the Senate amendments disagreed to.

The House adjourned at 5 o'clock.

HUSBAND'S SERMONS

INTERRUPTED BY WIFE MAKING FACES AT HIM.

The Rev. James E. Haffner Seeks Divorce Because of Cruel Treatment.

Anderson, Ind., May 8.—[Special.]—To-day Rev. James E. Haffner, pastor of the Universalist church, filed suit for divorce from Bertha Haffner, to whom he was married six years ago. The minister says in his complaint that his wife has repeatedly stigmatized him professionally, and has treated him cruelly, finally leaving him last week and saying she would not return. The complaint further alleges that Mrs. Haffner was in the habit of making passages in the minister's Bible in such a way as to confuse him in the delivery of his sermons, and that she often sat in church and made faces at him.

VESUVIUS GETTING ACTIVE ONCE MORE.

Main Crater Discharging Sand, Cinders and Dense Column of Smoke.

Naples, May 8.—Vesuvius is again showing considerable activity. To-day a dense column of smoke is rising from the crater and spreading like an umbrella, accompanied by loud detonations and electrical discharges, which are especially noticeable from Resina. The main crater is discharging sand and cinders.

An Englishman named Mober to-day ascended Mt. Vesuvius, going within eighty yards of the opening of the crater, which now is 400 feet lower toward Resina than it was before the recent eruption.

UNDER FROWNING SKIES

Former Mayor Grainger Sets Library Corner Stone.

Small Crowd Braves Chill Winds and Rain.

Congressman Sherley Makes Principal Address.

MR. CARNEGIE NOT PRESENT.

Frowning skies, a chilling wind and water-soaked ground didn't contribute much to the felicity of the occasion when the corner stone of the new Louisville Free Public Library was laid yesterday afternoon. What there might have been of pomp and elaborateness in the ceremonies, had weather conditions been more propitious, gave way to simple and rather hurried exercises, in which men with overcoats and hats participated. It was a notable assembly of men and women, however, that witnessed the placing of the block of Georgia marble chosen at the head of the corner, and the occasion, as was said by Col. Bennett H. Young in his address, was surely destined to be remembered in the history of Louisville.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the proposed assembly of the members of the board at the library, and the march to the site, headed by the First Regiment Band was given up. The band assumed its position on one side of what is to be the main entrance, among pieces of stone and mechanical contrivances used in the erection of the building. Those who attended the ceremonies, aside from the members of the board, laid on the steel girders of

INEXHAUSTIBLE NATURAL GAS

Believed to Underly Land
About Jeffersonton.

Company Formed to Sink
Gas Wells.

Flow Discovered By Accident
Last November.

EXPERTS GIVE OPINIONS.

That Jefferson county is a natural gas center seems to be indicated beyond doubt by recent discoveries made on the farm of M. E. Kline, one-half mile from Jeffersonton. So strong are the indications that natural gas in abundance is to be found there that a number of capitalists have formed the Jefferson County Oil and Gas Company with a capital stock of $100,000. The company has been incorporated under the laws of Kentucky with general offices in Louisville. The officers are: O. S. Kline, president; Clint C. McClary, vice president; H. N. Reubelt, secretary and treasurer, and M. E. Kline, general manager. The directors of the company are O. S. Kline, Clint C. McClary and M. E. Kline.

The purposes of the company are principally the buying, selling, leasing and subleasing of land upon which to drill and bore wells for oil and gas; to build rigs and machinery for drilling, pumping and operating wells; to erect tanks and pumping stations; to lay pipe and pipe lines through which oil and gas may be conveyed and bought and sold as a product, and to pump, produce and sell oil and gas.

Strike Caused Excitement.

Leases on 730 acres of valuable oil and gas lands in Jefferson county are owned by the Jefferson County Oil and Gas Company. Considerable excitement was occasioned last November by the striking of gas on the farm of M. E. Kline near Jeffersonton. The flow was struck at a depth of only ninety-four feet, and for days the flow was strong and constant. By accident the gas became ignited, and for a time the flames which leaped high into the air, threatened to destroy the residence and outbuildings of Mr. Kline. The flow of gas finally exhausted itself, having come from a volume contained in a "pocket." Since then geological experts have made examinations, and have arrived at the conclusion, based upon the strata and history of other gas wells of like situation, that natural gas exists in the neighborhood of Jeffersonton and under the Kline farm in large quantities. They expressed the opinion that a permanent flow of natural gas will be found.

Though the supply of gas found in the "pocket" on the Kline farm had been exhausted, so convinced were the owners of the farm that gas in an inexhaustible supply was to be found on its place that it continued to bore until a depth of 1,235 feet now has been reached. At this depth a high quality of mineral water has been found and this will be placed in the market. The water has risen in the well and has reached within 100 feet of the surface. A pump is to be installed and this water will be placed on the market without delay. It consists of a large amount of carbonic acid, sulphureted hydrogen, sodium chloride, magnesium chloride, magnesium sulphate, calcium carbonate, calcium sulphate and magnesium sulphate. The water is said to be on an equality, if not better, than that of many other wells of a similar character.

Rather than sacrifice the water, the Jefferson County Oil and Gas Company has decided to abandon further operations on the old well, and the work of sinking a new one for the purpose of striking gas will be started as soon as improved machinery can be set in place. The officers and directors of the company are enthusiastic over the outlook and expect to reap results which will astound the public. The work of boring for gas will be pushed from now on, no expense being spared to make the venture a success.

Prof. Oppelt's Opinion.

According to Prof. Otto Oppelt, of New Albany, Ind., an expert geologist and chemist of national reputation, the geological formations on and in the vicinity of the Kline farm are unusual and remarkable for this section of Kentucky, some consisting of a gigantic uplift or anticline of the lower Silurian rock, rising abruptly several hundred feet and forming a dome at or near the Kline farm. The geological formation exposed in the bed of Chenoweth creek on the Kline farm, where the well is located, shows beyond all doubt that the gas is from the stratum known as the Trenton rock, and it is from this rock that gas in paying quantities is found in New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana.

The opinion of experts and practical gas men who have examined the gas well on the Kline farm is that gas in paying quantities and in a substantial and permanent flow is to be found upon the drilling of a sufficient bore to a reasonable depth. The following deductions have been drawn by Prof. Oppelt after carefully going over the grounds and making a minute investigation:

First—There is a dome or an anticline, rising abruptly in the neighborhood of the Kline well near Jeffersonton, which dome or anticline contains a fine quality of natural gas.

Third—That said gas emanates and comes from the Trenton rock formation.

Fourth—Based upon the geological strata and history of other gas wells of like situation, it is reasonable to conclude that natural gas exists in said location in large quantities, and that it will flow in a permanent flow.

These deductions were set forth in a report made by Prof. Oppelt to the Jefferson County Oil and Gas Company. During his investigation he found fossils which prove to him conclusively that the formation in the bed of Chenoweth creek, and where the Kline well is located, belong to the Hudson river limestone of the Lower Silurian system. Nearly all the gas wells in Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio which are of any value, are drawing their gas from the Trenton rock of the Lower Silurian formation.

Plan Big Resort.

O. S. Kline, president of the Jefferson County Oil and Gas Company, said yesterday afternoon that just as soon as improved machinery could be installed he would begin to sink a new well for gas. He said: "In case we do not strike the dome at the proper place we shall not become discouraged, but sink a new well. We are convinced that we occupy the center of a gigantic gas field, and are ready to spend a large amount of money in seeking a permanent flow of natural gas. In case we fail to strike the proper vein in this new well we are about to sink, we will convert it into an artesian well and sink a third well in our quest for natural gas. Our plan now is to erect a modern summer hotel on my brother's farm, which has been leased by the company, where persons from all parts of the country can visit as they do at French Lick and Hot Springs and drink the mineral water. The farm is an ideal location for such a resort as we have in view. Of course it will take some little time to get all our plans under way, but we think we have one of the biggest things in the country, and mean to push it for all it is worth."

Discovered By Accident.

It was by accident that M. E. Kline first discovered natural gas on his farm. He had a force of men employed digging a well for fresh water purposes on his place. After the workmen had dug down a distance of eighty feet there was a blow out of gas which poured forth in a strong flow. The explosion was heard as far as Jeffersonton, and people for miles around, attracted by the noise of the explosion and the flames produced by the burning gas, visited the well. It was the first indication that Mr. Kline had that his farm was in a natural gas belt.

Methodist Conference Adopts First
Law of Present Session.

Birmingham, Ala., May 8.—The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, passed its first law to-day, when it occurred in the main report of the Revisals Committee, as amended, on powers of unordained preachers. Under the law preachers who have not been ordained may preach the gospel, celebrate the rite of matrimony, and, in the absence of an elder or bishop, administer baptism; and, in the absence of the presiding elder or bishop, control the church in all services to be held in the church in the absence of the understanding that no permanent powers of ordination are conferred until the same shall be granted by the laying on of the hands after he shall have met the qualifications for ordination.

A resolution was also introduced with a view of urging Congress and the state legislatures to enact laws to protect dry counties from the shipment of liquor from other localities. It was signed by George M. Napier, W. G. Post and John A. Bell, and was warmly approved that a motion was made to suspend the rules and allow the bill to be read twice, after which a considerable discussion of the rules was suspended for the purpose of taking up standard reports. The time for adjournment arrived before the resolution was reached. Whether it goes to a committee or not it is believed it will be a landmark.

Vice President C. W. Fairbanks, fraternal delegate from the Methodist Episcopal Church, has again postponed his visit to the conference. He telephoned from Washington to-day that duties in that city probably will prevent him from being here Monday next, and that it is impossible for him to say just when he will come. However, he hopes to visit the conference, and will undertake to fix a definite date later. He will be given a banquet by the Birmingham Commercial Club when he visits Birmingham.

Will of Corwin H. Spencer.

St. Louis, May 8.—The will of Corwin H. Spencer, reputed millionaire grain dealer, who died suddenly last week, was filed for probate to-day. It leaves an annuity of $15,000 to his widow and grants her the use of the estate to his four children. Mrs. Spencer and the son, Harlow, are named as executors. No inventory was filed with the will and no estate was set to the value of the estate.

Convention Excited.

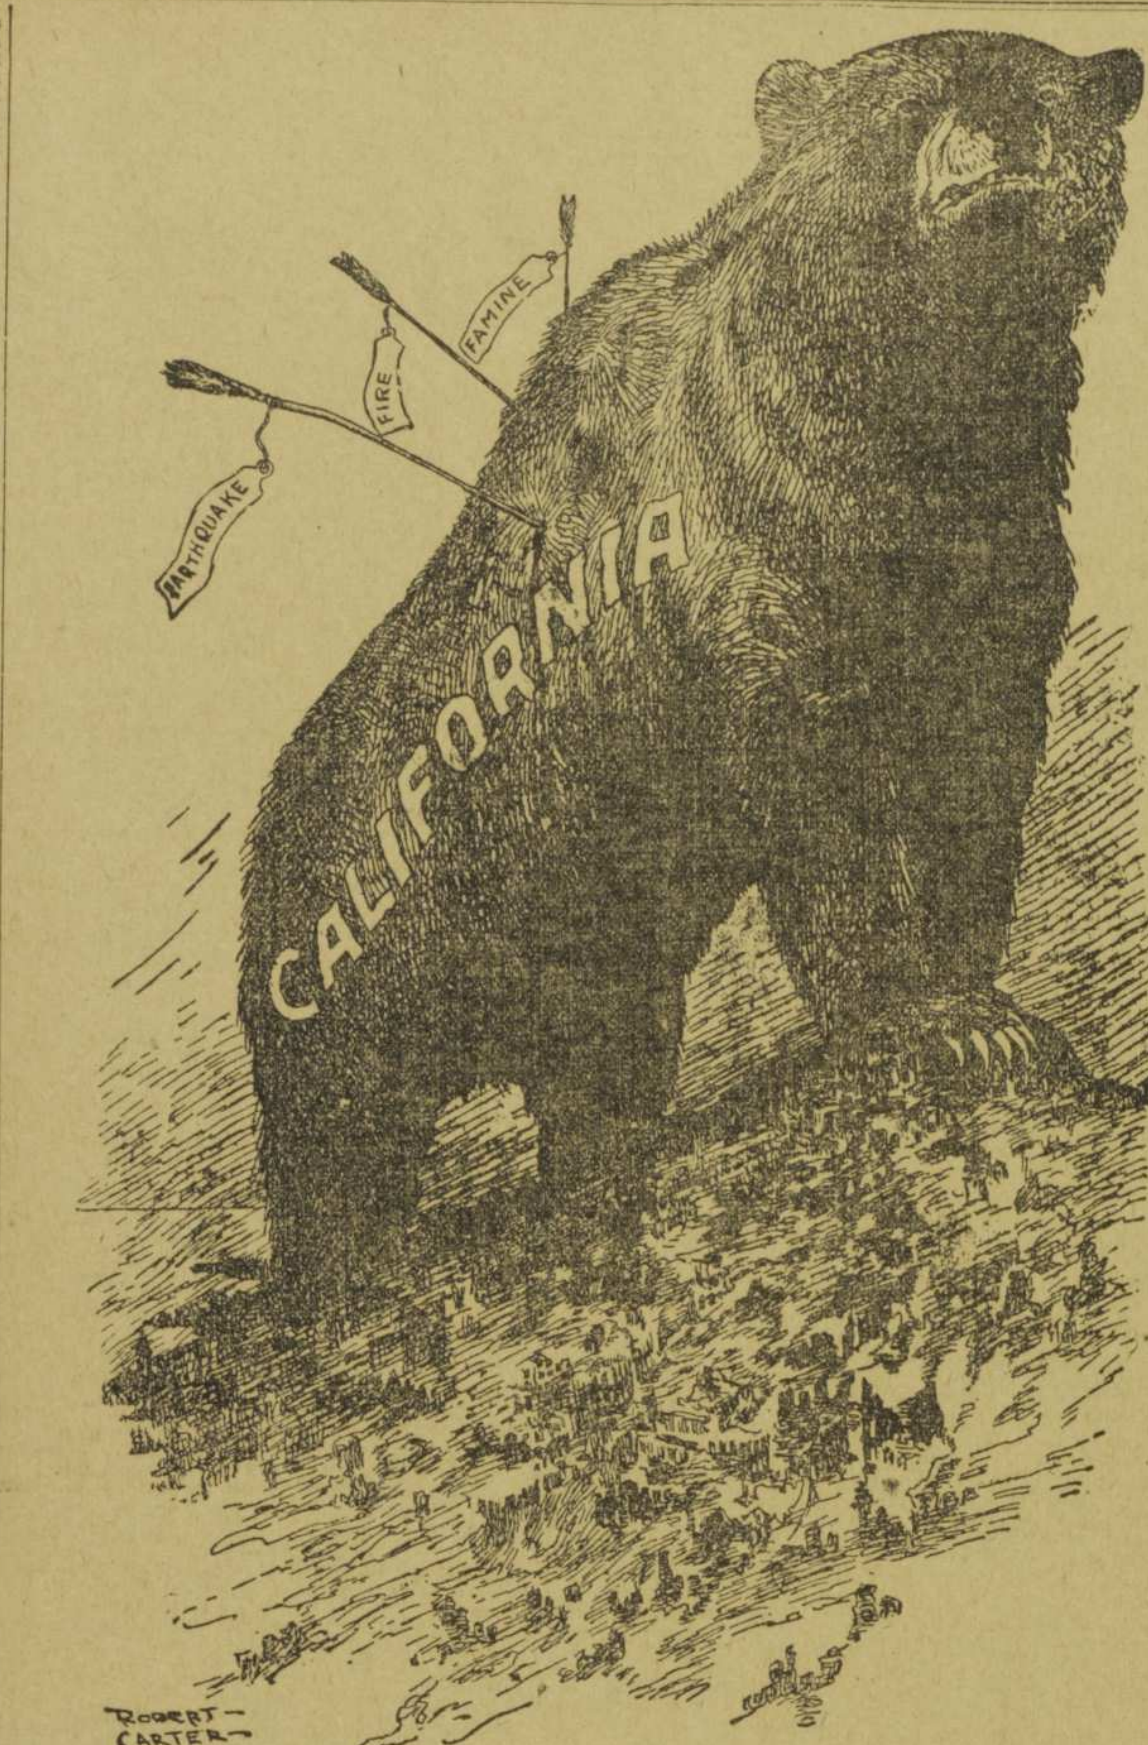

The members of the Constitutional Democratic Convention, when they reassembled here to-day, were very much excited over the issue of the fundamental law and the dispersal of the meeting of the members of Parliament last night, and it required all the influence of the leaders to restrain them from doing something desperate. So serious was the situation that the Central Committee of the party immediately framed a resolution on the subject.

There was a tremendous uproar when Prof. Milukoff introduced the subject. He said: "We had reasons to believe that the mad folly of the Witte Government in trying to force the Emperor to sign the odious fundamental law after a storm of indignation had been aroused throughout the country by the publication of the draft of the measure had been definitely abandoned. But we now learn, like thieves in the night, the bureaucrats have executed this damnable conspiracy against the people. The best parts of the fundamental law as issued are worse than the worst parts of any European constitution."

"I asked the convention to adopt a moderate attitude, but now we have the right to be radical. We must immediately answer this challenge."

Resolution Presented.

M. Rodicheff then presented a resolution in substance as follows: "On the eve of the opening of Parliament the Government has flung down a new provocation to the people by the issue of the fundamental law and by depriving their representatives of the right to revise it. The ruling bureaucracy refuses its ancient power and Parliament the center of the people's house, is shorn of the rights solemnly conferred upon it."

the purpose of provoking a struggle and under cover of the disorder to dissolve Parliament. Nevertheless the meeting appealed to the workmen at this critical juncture to do nothing rash and to trust in Parliament to fight for liberty against repression.

His appeal carried the day and the convention adopted the resolution by a standing vote. Previously the convention was forced to adopt a more radical declaration on the subject of the agrarian problem, laying down the general principle that the land belonged to those who tilled it, leaving the details of the project to be presented to Parliament by the Central Committee. Only in this way could the leaders avoid a declaration in favor of the nationalization of the land.

The Constitutional Democrats closed 6 o'clock this afternoon, after Prof. Milukoff had delivered a speech, during which he congratulated the party on having disappointed its enemies, who predicted a split. He believed the ideas for which the party stood were constantly growing in the country while on the contrary the extreme revolutionaries were passing through a crisis. While the struggle might be prolonged, the professor declared, amid applause, victory was certain in the end.

Speech From Throne.

According to present plans the speech from the throne will give the Constitutional Democrats no point for criticism in the Parliament's reply. The Associated Press was informed to-day that the speech will not touch on politics or suggest programmes. In substance it will simply be a greeting.

After the services of consecration at the Palace to-day the members of the Parliament selected their seats in the Chamber. The Constitutional Democrats occupy a solid block at the left of the chamber, the Polish members are in the center, the peasants took possession of the highest seats which are in the rear of the estate included amphitheater and were immediately dubbed "the mountain." The seats at the right will be thinly occupied.

ORPHANS' HOME

Considered By Kentucky Red
Men in Convention.

ASK AUTHORITY FROM GREAT
COUNCIL OF UNITED STATES.

WELCOME EXTENDED BY GOV.
BECKHAM.

CORN AND VENISON FEAST.

Frankfort, Ky., May 8.—[Special.]—Every train coming to Frankfort brought Red Men from different sections of the State to attend the twelfth annual Great Council, which began its second session in this city to-day.

Ex-Mayor Dehoney presided at the opening exercises, which were held in the hall of the House of Representatives, and called the body together at 11 o'clock. The Rev. C. H. Hudson offered prayer, after which Gov. Beckham delivered the address of welcome in a very graceful and cordial manner. He said his first predecessor in office, Gov. Shelby, would have given a different welcome to the Red Men over a hundred years ago, different from the one tendered to-day by the city of Frankfort.

Grand Sachem L. L. Bebout, of Paducah, responded. Other speakers were: Address of Welcome to the City of Frankfort—Mayor E. E. Hume. Response—Grand Senior Sagamore D. H. Russell.

Address of Welcome—Representative T. H. Crockett, Blackfoot Tribe.

Response—Junior Sagamore R. L. Page.

Address of Welcome—Col. George B. Harp, president of Frankfort Business Men's Club.

Response—Past Great Sachem H. H. Dehoney.

At the session this afternoon a resolution was passed requesting the Grand Council of the United States to amend the constitution and by-laws so as to permit the Grand Council of Kentucky through its subordinate branches to erect and maintain an orphan's home for the members of the tribe in this State, and it will be remembered, took place last year, but which was not at its meeting last year, but which was the matter being taken to the Grand Council of the United States it was found that the Council of Kentucky was without authority to establish such an institution under the provisions of the order.

The Red Men were entertained at a corn and venison spread to-night by the local Blackfoot Tribe.

Many Assessments Raised.

The State Board of Equalization to-day finally accepted the assessment made in the counties of Barren and Casey. In Bullitt county lands and personally subject to equalization were raised 2 per cent. Hardin county was raised 8 per cent. on lands and personally subject to equalization.

The board took preliminary action in the second appellate district. In the following counties the assessments of County Boards were accepted: Union, Boone, Daviess, Edmonson, Allen, Breckinridge, Boyle, Calloway, Lincoln and Logan. Butler county was increased 10 per cent. on lands and personally subject to equalization were raised 2 per cent. Harlan county was raised 8 per cent. on lands and personally subject to equalization.

Washington, May 8.—Representative Mann, of Illinois, told the House a story to-day which members quickly acknowledged touched their hearts. The climax was a criticism of the President, who, he said, in one breath issued a proclamation for the raising of large families, and in the next proclaimed a mandatory order forbidding the discharge of any young man from the navy unless he was physically or otherwise incapacitated.

The pointlessness of the story was the record of a recent case with which Mr. Mann had dealt, concerning a family of eight children, the father, a cripple, the mother with a babe in arms and the oldest son, a boy of twenty, in the navy. The only other bread winner was a boy who earned three dollars a week. Mr. Mann presented to the House the application of the father for the discharge of the boy from the navy that he might help in his support. He read the reply of the secretary, who regretted his inability to make the discharge in the face of the President's "mandatory order."

If the President's advice with reference to the Taft family was to be followed, Mr. Mann thought it decidedly necessary that no hindrances to the support of such families should be made by a Presidential order. Asked what he proposed to do to remedy the situation, he declared he was far too familiar with the rules of the House "to undertake any such enterprise."

Representative Stanley, of Kentucky, contended that too much enthusiasm seemed to permeate recruiting officers of the navy.

Hemp Warehouse Burns.

The large hemp warehouse of the Kentucky river mills, located near the lock, one mile north of Frankfort, was destroyed by fire at 4 o'clock this morning, together with its contents of hemp.

Funeral of Mrs. Jane Haley.

The funeral of Mrs. Jane Haley, mother of Gen. Percy Haly, took place at the Catholic church at 3 o'clock this afternoon and was attended by a wide circle of friends, including Frankfort's most prominent citizens. Gov. Beckham and most of the State officials were also present. The Rev. Thomas Major conducted the services.

ROSS RE-ELECTED ON OPEN JOINT PLATFORM.

Recently Ousted From Office of Mayor
For Alleged Nonenforcement of Laws.

Kansas City, May 8.—William M. Ross, Democrat, who resigned the office of Mayor of Kansas City, Kan., recently pending State outer proceedings against him for nonenforcement of certain laws, and who was later ousted by the Supreme Court, which disregarded his resignation, was re-elected Mayor by 1,600 plurality at a special election to-day.

The issue of the election was the enforcement of the prohibition and anti-gambling laws. Ross was supported by the element which believes that the best interests of the city demand that licensing of joints and gambling halls as they maintain that a strict enforcement of the law against such places deprives the city of its necessary revenue. E. E. Venard, his Republican opponent, who has been Acting Mayor voted and most of them supported the temperance people. Many women voted and most of them supported Venard. The question of Ross's right to hold the office of Mayor will now be tested.

The food experience of a doctor experimenting with himself is worth knowing. He says:

"I had acid dyspepsia since I have any knowledge, from eight years old. I know."

"I worked down from stomach to intestines, locating at the umbilicus in entitis until six years ago the agony every few days was something terrible."

Just a plain bit of good, old-fashioned common sense. Now apply common sense to your "health of body and mind."

The court reversed the Madison Circuit Court, Judge Settle writing, in the case of Thomas Coyle vs. Commonwealth. The case was given seven years for the killing of his brother-in-law, Hugh Riddle. The reversal is on the ground of erroneous instruction.

The court, by Chief Justice Hobson writing, reversed the Knox Circuit Court in John Saylor and John Smith vs. Commonwealth. Appeals were tried together and fined on a charge of assault and battery. This court holds peremptory instruction for the defendants should have been given.

A. Y. FORD'S LIFE CERTIFICATE

Honored at Annual Meeting of Commercial Club.

Victor Engelhard Is Again Elected President.

Upward and Onward Slogan of the Club.

WORK OF THE PAST YEAR.

A bigger, better, brainier and healthier Louisville was the burden of the speeches at the Commercial Club meeting at the Louisville Hotel last night. It is to be bigger by extending its confines, by augmenting its industries and by increasing its population; better by a crusade in behalf of civic righteousness; brainier by virtue of its public and high-school systems, made more efficient by the probability of a great university, and healthier by reason of the good works of the Kentucky Anti-Tuberculosis Association and its fight against "the great white plague" and for lower mortality by virtue of a complete sewerage system built and extended in the hands of a nonpartisan board.

These things to be obtained by the combined effort of a loyal commercial body, working in harmony with men representing the highest business and social interests of the city, were discussed and enthusiastically received at the annual meeting of the organization.

Arthur Y. Ford, who was presented with the life membership certificate by the Commercial Club last night.

One of the largest assemblages that ever attended the annual meeting of the club completely filled the ordinary and a considerable part of the grill room at the Louisville Hotel last night.

Those present were representatives of the city's best interests in all lines.

Men From All Walks.

Retail merchants, heads of wholesale houses, men at the head of Louisville's financial establishments and professional men of the highest standing in the community listened with interest to the addresses that were made in behalf of a greater Louisville.

President Victor H. Engelhard presided and after a few preliminary remarks entered upon his annual report of the things accomplished by the Commercial Club during his administration.

He said:

This has been by all odds the busiest year the Commercial Club has ever had, and great reason of incalculable benefit to the city and State have been attained.

After explaining the constitution and organization of the Commercial Club, he paid a high tribute to the ability and faithfulness as well as to the energetic and faithful service of the Board of Directors.

As the most important achievements of the year, President Engelhard cited the following:

The publication of Louisville of many columns in leading trade journals, financial papers, etc., throughout the United States within the past year.

Several lectures of national reputation have been furnished with data about Louisville that have been incorporated into their lectures.

Three hundred thousand folders, setting forth the advantages of this city, have been distributed.

Illustrated lectures were given under the auspices of this club, and they proved popular and instructive.

The city was well advertised in a sixteen-page supplement of the New York Commercial Appeal, and in the Chicago Tribune.

The City Beautiful Committee was established, and its work promises most satisfactory results.

The club made the fourth State Development convention a success.

Shared with the Department of Agriculture in running the corn and alfalfa special through the city.

Acted upon the suggestion of Miss Louise Lee Hardin and undertook the Home-coming Week celebration.

ter appearance and greater safety of the city by helping secure an underground ordinance and some electric arcades for the intersections of the principal streets.

Gave aid to the movement to connect the three great parks by a boulevard and to secure better street car facilities for service to the parks.

Gave its endorsement to the work now being done among the boys and girls of the negro race.

Had established a department of immigration and secured an annual appropriation for its maintenance, and has undertaken to form an instruction bureau.

Has aided the cooperation of other commercial organizations in securing an interchange of goods between the South-eastern and Mississippi territories.

Succeeded in getting Louisville placed on an equal footing with Cincinnati in the matter of Mr. Sterling express shipments.

Lent its good offices to the company which recently purchased the traction company of Central Kentucky and which believed that extensions will soon be made in this direction.

At the request of Cincinnati, has taken up the matter with the Southern railway of extending its line to Cincinnati.

Assisted in securing additional train service on the Richmond branch of the Louisville and Nashville.

Indorsed by resolutions a bill of the General Assembly, introduced by the Kentucky Railroad Commissioners, as well as providing for additional clerical aid.

Sent a delegation to the National Retail Merchants' Association at Chicago.

Adopted resolutions calling upon Kentucky Senators and Congressmen to assist in making the National Bankruptcy Law permanent.

Also adopted resolutions favoring reduction in letter postage and the establishment of a postal consolidation of the third and fourth classes of mail matter.

Elected during the year 480 new members and re-elected 164 old members.

Secured legislation looking to the improvement of the city in the matter of sewerage, fire, and health, and the extension and improvement of the sewerage system.

Indorsed and aided the Kentucky Anti-Tuberculosis Association.

Took 150 citizens to the State Fair at Lexington on Louisville day.

Has taken steps to secure for Louisville a schedule of rates of the Chicago Great Western.

Devoted much energy to defeating the license tax on restaurants as proposed in the new revenue law.

Tr. Engelhard's concluding sentiment was: "With membership never before equalled, with finances in a splendid condition, with a membership never before known, and with a municipality fully awakened from a long slumber and bristling with development and progress, the Louisville Commercial Club is proud to have achieved with which past achievements will indeed seem insignificant."

Life Membership For Mr. Ford.

In a few well chosen words, Mr. McDowell presented this certificate to Arthur Y. Ford, treasurer of the Commercial Club, and the Commercial Club.

Mr. Ford responded in a speech that held the closest attention of his audience. He expressed his appreciation in language that showed how deeply he felt the honor and the responsibility of the highest terms his appreciation of the work that was being done by the club, and spoke of the many things that he would reach, with such eloquence that the rounds of applause caused frequent interruptions.

Many who had attended the meeting in previous years declared it the finest effort, especially of an impromptu nature, ever delivered upon the floor.

Mr. Engelhard Re-elected President.

The next business in order was the election of officers. On motion of Judge Thomas H. Gordon, Victor H. Engelhard was re-elected president by one vote cast by the secretaries. In his speech of acceptance, Mr. Engelhard again declared his intention of resigning immediately after the business of Home-coming Week was completed.

For vice president, two candidates were nominated, Fred Levy and C. J. Meddis. Fred Levy was elected by a vote of 163 to 133. In his speech of acceptance, Mr. Levy said it was customary to announce a platform before one entered on a race, but he would follow the opposite course and announce his platform after his election.

The principal plank of the platform was new and larger quarters on the first floor for the Commercial Club.

Second, attention paid to industries already established in the same extent that efforts were made to secure new ones.

For second vice president, the balance was on the names of S. B. Lind and T. J. Batman. Mr. Lind received 255 votes, and was declared elected.

For the position of secretary, two candidates were nominated, and in nomination for the five positions made vacant on the Board of Directors, and it was announced that the members of the club could be voted for on the ballot.

Three Elected On First Ballot.

To facilitate the voting, printed ballots were furnished and the members were requested to vote for five directors at one time. James D. Greig, Pinkney Varble and A. T. Macdonald were declared elected on the first ballot, and the remaining two were elected on the second ballot.

backing which would make the association successful in the consummation of the purpose for which it was organized. He prophesied that in less than two years four sanitariums would be built in this city for the purpose of caring for consumptives, two for white patients, two for colored, two of which would care for those in the incipient stages and two for those in the advanced stages of the disease.

Retail Merchants In Line.

Mr. F. W. Kelsker, Jr., of the Retail Merchants' Association, was next introduced. He pledged the aid of his organization to the movement to make work undertaken for the city's benefit and declared in emphatic terms its interest in helping further all the plans of the Commercial Club, stating that there were only three or four members of the Retail Merchants' Association who were not on the roster of the Commercial Club and that it would be their purpose and their pleasure to secure them for the latter organization.

Pending the counting of the next ballot and just before going to the refreshment tables E. J. McDermott, who was not on the roster of the Commercial Club, and who had been in the audience while he discoursed in behalf of civic righteousness, industrial development and the best interests of Louisville from all standpoints that make city great. His speech was a fitting climax to the greatest and most energetic of the evening held by the Commercial Club.

DEATH OF MRS. HONORE

MOTHER OF FAMOUS FAMILY SUCCEUMS TO LONG ILLNESS.

Oscar Fenley Attends Funeral Services In Chicago.

Oscar Fenley is in Chicago in attendance on the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Carr Honore, wife of Henry H. Honore, a former Kentuckian. Mr. Honore is wealthy and a retired real-estate dealer. Mrs. Honore died at her home, 2103 Prairie avenue, Sunday afternoon. She had been ill for the last few years and her death was not unexpected. She was over eighty years of age and had been a resident of Chicago since 1857.

Mrs. Honore was best known because of the social prominence of her children, as she never aspired to social distinction. She was born in Oldham county, and was possessed of the beauty and grace that made her death widely famed. When she was twenty years of age she was a principal in a romantic love wedding, becoming the wife of Henry H. Honore and her sister the wife of Benjamin Honore.

In 1857 the families removed to Chicago and joined the Southern colony on Ashland avenue, among whom were the elder Carter Harrison and other prominent former Southerners. Mr. Honore was entered the real-estate field in Chicago and was very successful. His career has been intimately connected with the growth of the metropolis of the Mississippi valley. In recent years Mrs. Honore had been almost a recluse at her home, but until a few days ago it was not believed that death was so near. The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon.

Before her husband Mrs. Honore is survived by famous children. Mrs. Potter Palmer is a recognized social leader of Chicago and is well known by the city of New York. Other children are Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant, wife of a son of Gen. Grant; Judge Lockwood Honore, Adrian C. Honore, H. H. Honore, Jr., and Nathaniel K. Honore. Mrs. Potter Palmer is in Europe and Mrs. Grant is away from Chicago. Mrs. Honore died at her home, 2103 Prairie avenue, Sunday afternoon. She had been ill for the last few years and her death was not unexpected. She was over eighty years of age and had been a resident of Chicago since 1857.

MILITARY PRISONERS WILL BE RECEIVED BY JOHN R. PFLANZ, JAILER.

Upon Advice of Legal Authorities He Declines To Accept Convicted Soldiers.

Members of the Kentucky State Guard must be good in the future, else they will have to go to jail. John R. Pfanz, jailer of Jefferson county, announced yesterday that he would receive and confine military prisoners in the Jefferson county jail. For the last few years he had refused to accept such prisoners, fearing that it might result in damage suits. His announcement yesterday was made after he had received expert opinion on the matter.

This news will come as a relief to some of the members of the First Kentucky Regiment. Unpaid fines of $5 each are hanging over the heads of a number of the men who failed to report at the last inspection, and it is said they now either will have to pay or go to jail. Heretofore a fine did not amount to much with some of the members of the regiment, as the officers had no way of enforcing payment other than taking the amount of the fines out of the pay of the delinquent camp.

There was a time, several years ago, when the practice was to receive military prisoners. The practice was stopped, however, upon the incarceration of several members of the militia who threatened to bring suit for the reason that they were not paid. At that time Mr. Pfanz consulted an attorney, who told him it was illegal for him to receive such prisoners. He also consulted Joseph Huffaker, Commonwealth's Attorney, who in turn consulted Col. Ernest M. Hatcher, head of the Kentucky State Guard law. It was on the advice of these three that Mr. Pfanz acted yesterday.

"THROW DOWN"

Happy Had Been Assured of Reappointment.

MAYFIELD REPUBLICAN ON WAY TO WASHINGTON.

WILL TRY TO HAVE THE ORDER RESCINDED.

THE OLD-LINE MEN COMPLAIN.

Another old-line Republican, in the person of James W. Happy, of Mayfield, has failed to secure reappointment to the office of circuit judge. He had been appointed to the office by the hands of the appointive power at Washington. Despite the fact, as asserted by Happy, that he was indorsed for reappointment as postmaster at Mayfield by three of the "Big Four," E. B. Ernst, John W. Yeoke and Congressman J. B. Bennett, of Greengrass, L. W. Key was appointed to succeed him Monday. Key was indorsed by J. C. Speight, who is the official referee for post-office appointments in the first congressional district.

James W. Happy has been known as the Republican boss of the first district for twenty-five years and his defeat came to him like a peal of thunder from a cloudless sky. He arrived in Louisville last night and was in Washington for the purpose of trying to induce Frank Hitchcock, first assistant postmaster general, to rescind the appointment of Key. Happy was in consultation yesterday with Republican friends of this city and announced last night that he would proceed to Washington this morning.

Happy's commission as postmaster at Mayfield expires next Monday, and he said he never dreamed that he would not be reappointed. He has been in office only four years. He has been in the office since 1891, and although he is going to Washington to see what may be done, he realizes that he has an almost insurmountable task before him. The three members of the "Big Four" were true to him and so yesterday. He blames J. C. Speight, whom he has formerly and indorsed him for reappointment.

"Looks Pretty Bad," Says Happy.

"It looks pretty bad," said Mr. Happy, "for a man who has been in the harness pulling for the Republican party in Kentucky like I have through thick and thin to be thrown down in this manner. I was entered the real-estate field in Chicago and was very successful. His career has been intimately connected with the growth of the metropolis of the Mississippi valley. Contentment over the will of Mr. Richards, who died in Champagne in 1881, is said to have resulted in a feud between the widow and her husband's relatives. Mr. Richards was immensely wealthy. He had retired from business in 1871 and had spent most of his time traveling. With his wife he had griddled the globe seven times. After a great deal of litigation in New York, where a will was produced and then set aside, the estate was divided. Meanwhile the body had been placed in a vault at Mount Hope belonging to the Richards family. Mrs. Richards declared that she was refused access and also permission to visit the tomb.

DR. C. E. ST. JOHN SPEAKS ON GROWTH OF CHURCH.

MAIN BODY OF DELEGATES TO ARRIVE TO-DAY.

PROF. FENN SPEAKS TO-NIGHT.

The Southern Conference of Unitarian Churches was opened last night in this city by an address by the Rev. Charles E. St. John, secretary of the American Unitarian Association of Boston, Mass., at the Church of the Messiah, Fourth avenue and York streets.

The subject of Dr. St. John's address was "Recent Progress of the Unitarian Body." The lecture was illustrated by the stereoscopic views of most of the church buildings of the association throughout the United States. Pictures of churches costing from a million and a half dollars to two hundred dollars were thrown upon the canvas. The speaker had something to say about the growth of the work of each church that was shown.

Dr. St. John made the point that the Unitarian Church formerly was thought to be of no use save in the city. He said that people used to say it was not the church of the laboring man, but he said this idea was being dispelled and that Unitarian churches were being planted in the country. The speaker said that the growth of the church throughout the South was flattering.

After the lecture an informal reception was held in the parlors of the church in honor of the visiting delegates. But few of the delegates had arrived last night. It is expected that all will have arrived by noon to-day. Addresses will be delivered to-day by the Rev. Henry Wilder Foote, of New Orleans; J. A. Fairleigh, of Louisville, and several other prominent Unitarians.

The Southern Association of Unitarian Women will meet at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The address of welcome will be delivered by Mrs. E. A. Goddard, of Louisville.

Prof. William W. Fenn, of Harvard University, will deliver a lecture to-night on "The New Testament in the Light of Modern Scholarship."

Lillie Turner Has No Trouble in Beating Good Field in Debutante Stakes.

WING TING SECOND AND ALANIE THIRD.

McDowell's King's Daughter Captures Handicap in Handy Fashion.

PROMINENT OAKS CANDIDATE.

THE MINKS, MALLEABLE AND SAVOIR FAIRE GIVE TALENT SOME SHOCKS.

FAVORITES BOWLED OVER.

SELECTIONS FOR TO-DAY.

First Race—Jim Beattie, St. Noel, Minnehaha.
Second Race—Alyth, Homeless, Beau Brummel.
Third Race—Banner, Kurtzman, Dr. Wagner.
Fourth Race—Lillie Turner, Class Leader, Winner.
Fifth Race—Camille, Lady Bateman, Gang Saw.
Sixth Race—Royal Legend, Follies Bergeres, Laura Hunter.
Seventh Race—Keynote, Elliott, Padre.

HERE were two performances which stood out in the light of the cloudy day at Churchill Downs yesterday, and in both of these filly races the center figures, The Debutante Stakes was won by Tom Hayes' two-year-old filly, Lillie Turner, by a hand, and the Handicap was won by Tom McDowell's King's Daughter, a three-year-old filly by Ormant-Queenkille II.

In each event the winner proved beyond the question of a doubt that she was the best in her respective race, and it is doubtful if there is a two-year-old filly at Churchill Downs who could have beaten Lillie Turner yesterday, and it is equally doubtful whether any three-year-old filly at the track could have taken the measure of Tom McDowell's daughter Ormant.

King's Daughter is entered in the Kentucky Oaks to be run later at Churchill Downs, and while Charley Elliott's Lady Navarre, on account of her recent race in the Kentucky Derby, will be made a favorite the entire betting section of the Bluegrass will pin their faith and place their money on King's Daughter. This filly ran green yesterday, serving badly twice in the stretch, but she has a body of speed, an abundance of class, and yesterday she made Maj. T. J. Carson, Brancas, Kercheval and other good horses look like a bunch of selling players.

The day was cold and raw, and a shower of rain fell during the first three races, but later in the day the sky cleared and the sun showed himself. The weather conditions were enough to keep the crowd down considerably below the average attendance since the meeting opened, but the size of the throng yesterday was remarkable considering the rain and cold. Most of the regulars believed that the track would be sloppy on account of the rain, but this was not a fact, because the four furlongs in the Debutante Stakes were run in 32.5, while in the handicap the mile was run in 1:42.5. This proves that the sandy soil at the Downs can stand a hard rain without particular hurt to it, and the chances are that the track will be as fast to-day as it has been this spring.

The form players had another bad day yesterday because Warner Griswold, in the second race, and Clifton Forge, in the third, were the only favorites to reward their backers. In fact, most of the other races furnished an upset, and the bookmakers got most of the money.

Lillie Turner's Debutante.

The Debutante Stakes, of course, was the feature of the card. This was at four furlongs for two-year-old fillies with $1,000 added, and thirteen of the best two-year-old mares at the track went to the post. Joe Hawkins' pair, Wing Ting and Margaret Morris, were made a favorite around 5 to 1, but Tom Hayes bet a world of money on his Star Shot filly, Lillie Turner. He set it in in chunks of fifties and hundreds, and in spite of the fact that the public was playing the Hawkins entry the Hayes mare made from 3 to 2 against Lillie Turner, and she won by a hand, and the bookmakers got most of the money.

Starter Holtman sent them away well together with Selene B. showing in front, but Jockey D. Austin immediately brought Lillie Turner past her, and as they turned into the stretch the Hayes filly led her field by a length and a half, with Wing Ting second and Alanie in third place. The favorite, Margaret Morris, was a high-class filly, because Joe Hawkins, who is a careful student of the racing game, believed that he would run first and second with Wing Ting and Margaret Morris. These three will hear watching during the remainder of the meeting.

King's Daughter a Good Filly.

While the Debutante Stakes was the feature of the card, the talent and form players displayed most interest in the fifth race. This was a free handicap at one mile, in which Kercheval, Chasmas, Brancas, King's Daughter, Belindina and Maj. T. J. Carson were sent to the post. Kercheval was always a mild favorite around 2 1/2 to 1, but thousands of dollars were wagered on Maj. T. J. Carson at 3 to 1, and on Belindina. The latter was backed from 30 to 5 to 1 at post time, while the price against King's Daughter advanced from 3 to 5 to 1. Everybody at the track believed that Tom McDowell had a fine filly in King's Daughter on account of her races in the East last year, and also because of her easy victory at Lexington several days ago, but few believed that she was sufficiently seasoned to beat such horses as Kercheval and Maj. T. J. Carson. Tom McDowell and his friends, however, wagers a fair-sized bank roll on the daughter of Ormant, and she certainly repaid her admirers.

Breaking in front to a good start King's Daughter assumed command and making each post a winning post, was never headed. She galloped her field into the sound, and only for a moment did it appear to be in danger. This was between the head of the stretch and the eighth pole, where she swerved toward the outside of the track, while Kercheval and Kercheval made their bid, but Hick's got her straightened out, only to swerve again toward the inside rail in a few more jumps. She was so much the best of her company, however, that this made no difference, and she came on and won galloping by two lengths from Belindina, with Brancas in third place.

The Minks Wins Easily.

The opening event of the afternoon's card was a selling affair at a pronounced favorite, with Baron and The Minks equal second choices. There was very little to the race, because The Minks outbroke the other horses, and she won by a hand, and she was a good horse to boot. The Minks was a three-year-old filly, and she was a good horse to boot. The Minks was a three-year-old filly, and she was a good horse to boot. The Minks was a three-year-old filly, and she was a good horse to boot.

Clifton Forge Scores.

Clifton Forge was the second favorite of the day to get the money. This was in the third race at six furlongs. With Baron and The Minks, Clifton Forge was a three-year-old filly, and she was a good horse to boot. The Minks was a three-year-old filly, and she was a good horse to boot. The Minks was a three-year-old filly, and she was a good horse to boot.

Talent Gets Car Fare.

The last race of the day was at one mile, selling, for three-year-olds and upward, and many a piker got carfare home when Savoir Faire won the race. Most of the regulars believed that the track would be sloppy on account of the rain, but this was not a fact, because the four furlongs in the Debutante Stakes were run in 32.5, while in the handicap the mile was run in 1:42.5. This proves that the sandy soil at the Downs can stand a hard rain without particular hurt to it, and the chances are that the track will be as fast to-day as it has been this spring.

Double-Headed Feature of Steeplechase and Good Sprint Race To-day.

This afternoon's card at the Downs bespeaks credit to Secretary Lyman Davis' ability. Not only has the card been made up so that the conditions of the several races are such as to interest the public, but it has also been so arranged as to allow the smaller fry of horsemen to make a bet on one or two horses—a chance at the plums.

As has been the order for the past eight days unwieldy fields predominate, and it is to accommodate the surplus or split races that the management continues to put on the seventh race.

Munro got the Minks off well in motion, and, making every post a winning one, won easily. Shipwreck forced all the early pace and was lucky to save the place from Lady Carol. When galloping, place driving. Winner, D. M. Prewitt's filly, 5 to 3, by Tom Gallant—Isabelle, trained by W. Wells. Value to winner, $200. Fractional time: 25, 20, 1:16 1/4.

Warner Griswold was best, broke well in motion, and making all his own pace, won with something in reserve. Crombold, a real good looker, ran a good even race and shows improvement; should be heard from soon if not too pretentiously placed. Baron had no apparent excuses. BECOMING A MOTHER

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of MOTHER'S FRIEND during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does MOTHER'S FRIEND carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Book containing valuable information free.

SELECT S. M. GRAY

To Act as Consulting Engineer on Sewers.

HAS INTERNATIONAL REPUTATION AS HIGH-CLASS EXPERT.

WILL CONFER WITH J. B. F. BREED, CHIEF ENGINEER.

WORK OF COMMISSION GROWS.

Samuel M. Gray, of Providence, R. I., has been appointed by the Louisville Sewer Commission as first consulting engineer in the gross work of planning a comprehensive and modern system of sewerage for the city. This appointment was made after correspondence and personal interviews with a number of the leading engineers of the country. The appointment of Mr. Gray is satisfactory to J. B. F. Breed, chief engineer of the work. This appointment is made under the enabling act which authorizes a mapping of the proposed system of sewerage for the city. The act empowers the commission to employ the services of two consulting engineers.

The newly appointed first consulting engineer has given the subject of sanitary engineering a life-time study and is a man of practical experience in the great work. He also is a man of international reputation. Mr. Gray was city engineer and chief engineer of water and sewerage plants for Providence, R. I., for thirteen years and then began his career as consulting engineer, in which branch of the profession he has been very successful for more than twenty-five years.

Among the cities for which he designed sewerage systems, either personally or in connection with other consulting engineers, are San Antonio, Tex.; Toronto, Ont.; Mobile, Ala.; Washington, D. C.; Baltimore, Md.; and Monterey, Mex. He was appointed by the United States Government to design a system of sanitary sewerage for Havana, Cuba, which system is in process of construction according to Mr. Gray's plans. In addition to these larger systems, he has designed and seen carried into construction a number of systems for smaller cities and towns.

Commissioners Well Pleased.

The members of the Commission feel that in securing the services of Mr. Gray they will avail themselves of the highest grade of information and experience obtainable in this country. All of the data required by Mr. Gray to make a careful study on his part of the present system with its defects and limitations and also of the reports of the city engineer and other engineers will be not now provided are being prepared by Chief Engineer Breed, and he probably will take his maps and reports to Providence, R. I., to go over them personally with Mr. Gray. Mr. Gray will then, in a short time, come to the city prepared to enter actively and advisedly the study of the ground. After a careful study of the whole subject by Mr. Breed and Mr. Gray, and after they have mapped out, at least, in a preliminary way, a system for Louisville, another consulting engineer will be called in to go over carefully the work.

Contracts Awarded For Brick and Concrete Paving.

COST OF MATERIALS SAID TO BE CAUSE OF INCREASE.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS PLANS MANY NEWSIDEWALKS.

LABOR SAID TO BE HIGHER.

The Board of Public Works is determined that new sidewalks shall be laid in the city wherever they are needed if the approval of the General Council can be secured. There are about two hundred contracts before the General Council now for approval, a large part of which likely will be acted upon favorably at the next meeting of the General Council which is May 22. Contracts were awarded yesterday at the meeting of the board for the building of brick and concrete sidewalks in different parts of the city, amounting to about $12,000.

The contracts were awarded to L. R. Figg and G. W. Gosnell. The average bids on the brick work were 55 cents a square yard. The contracts awarded for the concrete walks ranged from $1.17 to $1.27 a square yard. The bids are probably 15 or 20 per cent. higher than bids for the same work heretofore. Capt. J. H. Weller, of the Board of Works said the increase in price was due to the increase in the price of brick used for sidewalks and the increase in the price of labor. The contracts awarded yesterday will be presented to the General Council for approval at the next regular meeting. The contracts for brick construction were awarded as follows:

ELECTRIC LIGHT ORDINANCE

Will Be Considered By Joint Committee To-morrow At Noon.

The Joint Finance and Revision Committee of the lower board of the General Council will meet at noon to-morrow to consider the new ordinance offered by Councilman Edward G. Hill, at the last meeting of the body, asking for the sale of a franchise for furnishing electricity in Louisville. The ordinance is similar in many respects to the ordinance known as the Atherton-Jones ordinance which was defeated in the Board of Aldermen. It is backed by the Atherton-Jones interests.

When the first ordinance was introduced in the lower board it was referred to the Revision Committee, alone. Councilman T. N. Shepard, of the Finance Committee fought the other ordinance from start to finish. It is not known what attitude Mr. Shepard will assume in the meet to-morrow at noon.

COMMITTEE WORK

TO BE DISCUSSED BY PROMINENT SUNDAY-SCHOOL WORKERS.

Reception Monday Night To Be First Step In Preparing For Big Gathering.

W. N. Hartshorn, chairman of the International Sunday-school Association, and Marion Lawrence, general secretary of the same organization, will be guests of honor at a reception to be given in the lecture room of the Second Presbyterian church next Monday evening.

Besides the social features of this entertainment, these men will give instruction in committee work to the various committees that will be in attendance. It is intended that this meeting shall be a school of instruction for pastors, superintendents and members of committees in preparing for the great gathering of Sunday-school workers expected here in June, 1908.

A Committee of Arrangements was appointed several months ago with John Stites as chairman, and this committee has been holding regular sessions ever since. It met yesterday in the offices in the Fidelity Trust Company and besides transacting routine business it approved the membership of a large number of subcommittees.

The meeting Monday night will be of considerable general interest and will be a most important step in the preparation for the great religious gathering.
